business protection

at st&r we believe its time to put life cover on expenses!

Shareholder Protection

Should a shareholder in a business die, or be diagnosed with a critical illness, control of the business can shift to someone (often a spouse) who has neither the interest nor the ability to run that company.

Shareholder protection provides a lump sum to the business on the death/diagnosis of a critical illness, of a business owner and puts a legal agreement in place so that those monies are used to buy the shares back from the family; thus ensuring the business retains control and the family receives a lump sum equal to the shareholders stake in the company.

Relevant Life Plans

Are a very cost effective way of providing personal life cover, or life and critical illness cover. If you currently have personal life insurance, or life and critical illness cover, that is not set up as a Relevant Life Plan, or you simply require some cover, speak to us today and let us save you money!

Key Person Protection

Is a policy that provides a cash injection into your business. Key person protection ensures your company can remain financially stable should something happen to a key member of staff. This enables confidence to be maintained with suppliers, and staff, allowing your business to continue to thrive.

Business Loan Protection

Enables a business to pay off an outstanding loan, overdraft or commercial mortgage. Without business loan protection, would your company have the funds available to settle this debt and continue trading?

ST&R Trust Service

We have the in house technical expertise to set up any plan you require. We will complete the trust forms on your behalf allowing your business and families to be protected, as well as enabling you to obtain the tax benefits.
